I am in favour of the changes for the most part. I think more representation is a net good for the public and allows constituents to have more of a voice. The only change which I think is not great is splitting Rae and Edzo. Edzo is intertwined with Rae more so than any other Tlicho community. To the point that they are the same community. The thing that would make the most sense in the change is have Rae-Edzo as a district instead of splitting Rae off on it's own.
