I think great over/under-representation should be avoided. I don't understand what current "exceptional circumstances" would apply to violate this.

I would like to see political parties explicitly allowed.

The idea of allowing Yellowknifers to vote on a slate (as mentioned in Cabin Radio) is interesting. However, this opportunity would then need to apply to all NT citizens, which would then probably lead to great over-representation of Yellowknifers. ie: Why would some voters be allowed to vote for multiple candidates, but not others.
